the site of construction is in the immediate vicinity of Stettin (53-26N, 14-32E). The shipyards are located on the left side of the Oder River** and both aircraft carriers are floating alongside the yards. A bridge has been completed on only one of the carriers.

Comments:

##Probably referring to the Vulkan Werft, the largest shipyard in Stettin.

it is considered extremely doubtful that such aircraft carriers are actually under construction in view of the information contained in this report. This conclusion is based on the following facts:

50X1-HUM

- a. The shipyards at Stettin were destroyed to a great extent during World War II and even with subsequent reconstruction they are not considered capable of constructing aircraft carriers.
- b. Since the war only submarines, tankers, and small coastal patrol boats have been constructed at the Vulkan Werft.
